Woman Shor .- On last Saturday a trag edy was enacted in Frederick county, Md., across the Tountain, in the neighborhood of Bolivar, the particulars of which, as near as we could get them, are these:

Daniel Shoemaker, who is a married man with a family, has been in the habit of making private visits at the house of a widow lady named Mrs. Schildtknecht, for the purpose of meeting her daughter. On the night in question, Shoemaker had made an appointment to meet the girl at the usual self in the yard, near the house, to await her arrival. In the meantime the mother had discovered the illicit intercourse held between them, and that they were to meet that night. She arrayed herself in the clothing of her daughter, and at the appointed time went out to meet him. Not suspecting any deception, Shoemaker came from his concealment, and met the mother of his victim instead of the young girl. Reproaches were hurled at the vile seducer of her daughter's reputation which so exasperated him, that he drew a revolver, and fired three shots at YESTERDAY morning we were surprised to her, one of which took effect inflicting a serious, if not fatal wound.
